

Slav Epic in Moravský Krumlov

The unique master piece of Alfons Mucha that got its fame all over the world.

About

The Slav Epic is a cycle of twenty large format canvases painted by Alfons Mucha, Czech Art Nouveau painter of the 20th century. The canvases are dedicated to the history of the Slavs and Mucha was working on them for long 18 years.

Ten of the paintings address Czech history, which Mucha conceived as the fundamental ideological axis of the entire cycle. The other ten paintings are dedicated to the history of other Slavs, specifically to the idea of Slavic mutuality during their struggle for independence and national self-determination.

The broad thematic range extends from symbolic visions of Slavic antiquity, associated with the worship of pagan cults and deities, through historically documented events, to the "apotheosis" of the Slavs and their spiritual legacy to all mankind.

Useful information

Web: <https://www.mucha-epojej.cz/>

The exhibition of the Slav Epic is located at the chateau Moravský Krumlov. Tours are organised without the guide, multilingual written materials are available. The guide is provided only to groups upon request.

Payment possible cash or by card. Due to the capacity, purchasing the ticket online in advance is recommended.

The exhibition is not barrier-free.

How to get there

By train and bus, approximate travelling time: 1 hour one way.

Bus destination: Moravský Krumlov, náměstí - you have to change from the train to a local bus in Moravský Krumlov, železniční stanice

Then 4 minutes' walk to chateau

By car

Localization in the map

Map

Where to go for lunch

Restaurant ROKITEN; Restaurant U Blondýny; Restaurant U Matěje